

Romans 12:1

One of the biggest challenges in my Christian walk so far was crossing over from “my life” to “God’s life for me”. Maybe some immediately offer their lives as living sacrifices, but for me it took some time- I put up quite a fight. I believe the fight ended as I learned more and more about my God. The day sticks out in my memory because it was surely a defining moment in my life and walk with God. I’d been keeping a prayer journal and would write thoughts and prayers to God on a daily basis. For a long time the Spirit had been whispering to me, “When will you ask for God’s will for your life?” I’d filled the journal with hundreds of other requests, but battled with the one I knew God wanted to hear most- “Take my life Lord, do with it what you will.” My life has not been the same since. Saying those words and meaning it will change your life forever- and for the good. What was once my mediocre life is now God’s extraordinary life. It is an honor to live my life for Him and I urge you to do the same today if you haven’t. Learn to live for Him alone today. Read Romans 12:1 and offer your life to Him today.
